

CAPTIALIZATION AND TITLES

EXERCISE 1

Circle the letters which should be capitalized.

The media in Europe is slightly different. Recently, I visited rome, italy with my friends frank and sherry. When we arrived in aeroporti de roma, and we all traveled by bus to lucchio, a small village in tuscanY in the providence of Lucca, italy. We stopped at a small English-style pub named the boar's bottom. While having lunch at the cafe, I noticed a recent issue of the razzi italia on a table. On the cover, there was a front-page story entitled, "britney spears and george clooney having a baby." I fell out of the chair laughing. And, to think, I thought the national enquirer was bad.

EXERCISE 2

Put quotation marks around the titles requiring quotation marks. Circle the titles requiring italics [BOLDED].

1. Time Magazine
2. The New Yorker
3. "Cathedral" (Hint: Short Story)
4. The Professional (Hint: Film)
5. "Ode to a Grecian Urn" (Hint: Poem)
6. Vogue
7. "The Pedagogy of the Bamboozled" (Hint: Article)
8. "Twist and Shout"
9. Microsoft PowerPoint
10. "On Being a Man in the 21st Century" (Hint: Essay)
11. Mona Lisa
12. The Nutcracker Suite
13. Apple Computer Homepage
14. "Sonnet 18" (Hint: Poem)